

BANKNOTE CLIPBOARD

for the visually impaired

The clipboard is a banknote identification aid for the visually impaired. It helps identify banknotes of the following types

G TYPE

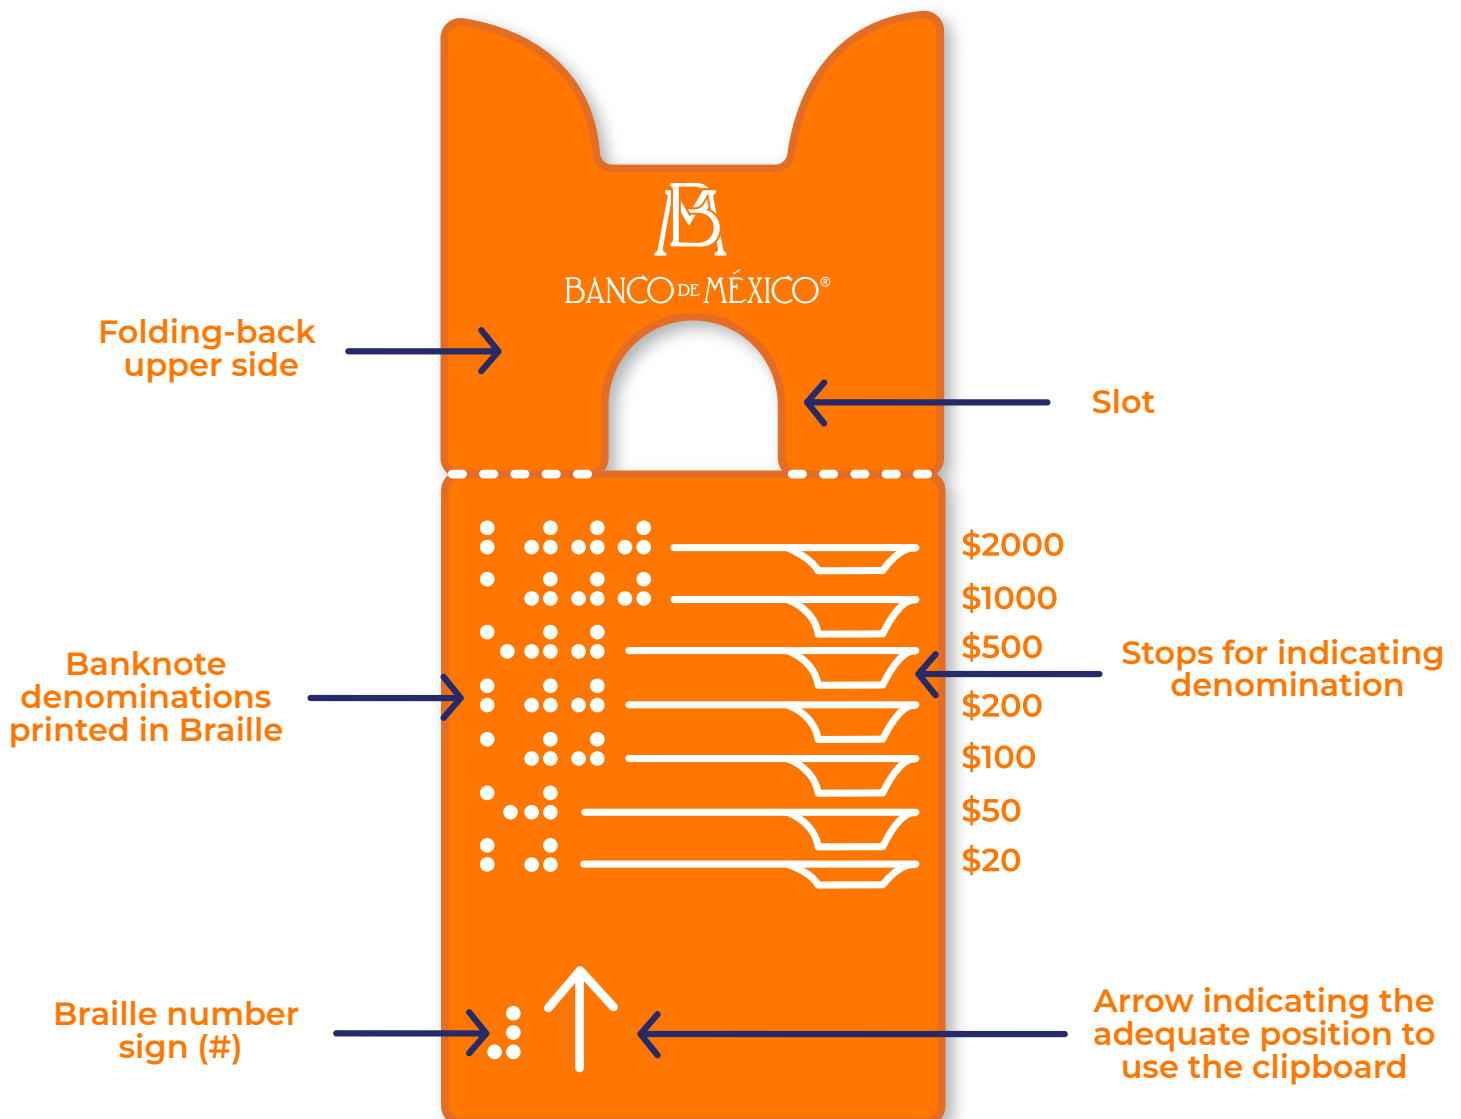

F TYPE

*The 2000-peso banknote will be issued only if the public requires such demand.

FRONT SIDE OF THE CLIPBOARD

Hold the clipboard with its front towards you and the arrow pointing up.

2

Fold the clipboard back and insert the banknote, sliding it down to the bottom of the upper fold and holding it in this position.

To find out the banknote denomination, fold the projecting part of the banknote forward. The folded part will extend no further than to the stop that corresponds to the banknote denomination printed in Braille.

There are seven stops in the clipboard, one per each denomination (20, 50, 100, 200, 500, 1000, and 2000 pesos).

For example, a 200-peso banknote will extend to the fourth stop and no further.

This clipboard is free of charge.
Its sale is prohibited.
